Entrenchments Are Taken by American Forces After Fierce Battle at Bagsag

Six Officers and Men Under Brigadier-General Pershing Are Killed

MANILA, June 12.—The entrenchments of the rebellious Moros under the Sultan of Jolo at Bagsag were taken by the American forces today after a fierce battle in which the American casualties were six killed and 12 wounded.

The killed were two privates of Company M, Eighth United States Infantry, three members of the Fifty-first company of scouts and one member of the Twenty-ninth company of scouts. Lieutenant Edwin H. Rackley was wounded in the leg. The casualties are regarded as few in view of the stubborn resistance of the Moros. The attacking forces had been made unusually strong as a precaution, there being, in addition to the company of regular infantry, a troop of cavalry, seven companies of scouts, two companies of constabulary with a battery of four mountain guns and a machine gun platoon.

The main position of the Moros was taken. Although there remains one point still occupied in the mountains the mountain guns will be in a position to shell it easily. Brigadier-General John J. Pershing, commander of the department of Mindanao, who led the forces, declares he will continue operations in Jolo until all the tribes-

Some of the Things That Were Said

"You have insulted parents and have acted without sense. If you were not a woman I could better express my opinion of you!"—Charles E. Hill to Miss Annie Florence Brown.

"Just forget that I'm a woman and go ahead!"—Miss Brown.

"The board of education has earned our deepest contempt!"—E. H. Garthwaite.

"The board has made itself the laughing stock of the town!"—Mrs. Garthwaite.

"The board is right and the parents wrong and as a parent of one of the expelled boys I admit it!"—R. H. Kessler.

"We called a fake inter-fraternity meeting to fool Miss Brown!"—Thomas Graves, fraternity president.

"We want to be assured of reinstatement before we will give up our fraternities!"—Sydney Carlton, fraternity member.

"We have told the boys what they can do. Obey the law. It is up to them!"—Miss Brown.

Taunts and charges of bad faith were hurled last night at the meeting of the board of education when fifty parents, angered because the board would not immediately reinstate the boys suspended and expelled from the high school for joining Greek letter fraternities, started a scene which lasted for several minutes. Director Miss Annie Florence Brown, who introduced a resolution refusing to take this action, as demanded, was the center of the storm. Charles E. Hill declared that she had indulged in "sharp practice," that she "had earned the contempt of the parents present," and that she had rendered impossible any amicable arrangement between parents and the school board. Referring to her as "this woman," he declared: "If she were a man I could better express my thoughts."

DISCRIMINATION BILL SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Aimed Against Local Price Cutting to Kill Competition.

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—A list of 28 bills signed today by Governor Johnson includes the discriminatory practices measure, known as the Senator Carr bill No. 53.

This bill is aimed at companies which go into any community or district and underseal rivals by price cutting for the purpose of killing competition while it maintains a higher price for its goods, in other parts of the state.

This bill was framed avowedly to reach the Standard Oil Company.

Assembly bill No. 1343 by McCarthy, regulating the use of elevators on buildings under the course of construction also was signed. It provides that the construction company shall provide safety devices.

Senate bill No. 263 gives to cities which have received title lands from the State the right to cede portions of such title lands to the United States government for public purposes. It also is provided in the bill signed by the Governor that no such grant shall be given unless it is approved by a vote of a majority of the electors of the city.

Senate bill No. 1005, providing for the registration of factories, workshops, mills and other manufacturing establishments, was among the measures signed.

OTHER MEASURES.

Here are some of the other measures signed by the Governor:

Assembly bill No. 505, Chandler, permitting counties to acquire rights of way for State highways.

Assembly bill No. 562, Benedict, authorizing municipalities to grant permits for passageways under or over alleys.

Assembly bill No. 849, Benedict, to give municipalities power to fix harbor dues.

SAYS IMMORALITY DUE TO FASHION

Tells the Police Chiefs Why Young Men Go Wrong

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—The trade against the modern woman's dresses, abbreviated too much at either end, made by Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen of Oakland in the session of police chiefs yesterday has aroused a storm of protest among Washington's clubwomen. Petersen declared the dresses were too short at the bottom, too low at the neck, and altogether immodest these days.

The women say the dresses are beautiful and the consensus of their opinion is that the California chief is "too mean for anything."

Petersen's speech, which caused the trouble, was a dissertation on the cause of immorality among men. Immodest dress of women he classed as the chief of these. He also criticized the suffragettes for their efforts to abolish red light districts, declaring their zeal misdirected.

"Our women wear dresses too short at the bottom and too low at the neck, with slits half way to the knee," he said. "More decent dressing on the part of the women would be better than a million lectures in increasing the standard of morality among the young men."

EXCHANGE OF STOCK PROPOSED

Union Pacific Would Trade Southern Pacific for Baltimore & Ohio Holdings

Attorney-General McReynolds Opposes Plan, Which He Says Is "No Plan at All"

S. T. PAUL, June 12.—Union Pacific railroad attorneys appeared before United States Circuit Judges Sanborn, Hook and Smith today and submitted additional plans for disposing of the road's holdings of Southern Pacific stocks. Attorney-General McReynolds, on behalf of the government, expressed unalterable opposition to those plans, which he said were "no plans at all but were merely propositions of something they intended to try to do."

The court, adjourned without announcing any decision. Presiding Judge Sanborn indicated that no order might be expected until the attorney general had decided whether the government would object to a proposed exchange of part of the holdings of Southern Pacific stock for Baltimore and Ohio stock held by the Pennsylvania railroad.

WOULD INVESTIGATE FIRST.

Attorney-General McReynolds thought the government would not object to the proposed exchange, but he wanted to investigate the holdings of the various roads before making any definite statement. He said he probably could form the court within three or four days.

"The time has come for the court to order something done," said the attorney general. "The Union Pacific does not even guarantee to carry out either of the two so-called plans now before the court; it asks a year to try to accomplish one plan, provided market conditions will permit such action without loss to stockholders."

The railroad counsel say that to dispose of the stock at present market conditions would be at a great sacrifice. It is incurred it will be as the result of wrongful action as construed by the Supreme Court, which has ordered this court to dispose of the stock within a reasonable time. Approval of either proposition submitted probably would find a situation just as it is now at the end of the year.

ACTION UP TO COURT.

Judge Sanborn asked the attorney general what action he thought the court would take. McReynolds said the court should either appoint a receiver to dispose of the stock or should itself devise some means of disposing of it.

The primary plan proposed provided for the sale of the stock by popular subscription similar to city bonds, while the alternate plan provided for placing the stock with a trustee and the issuance of certificates of interest against it. These certificates would be exchangeable only on the filing of an affidavit that the holder did not own any Union Pacific stock.

Attorneys for the Union Pacific presented at the opening of the hearing a new plan for the disposition of $38,000,000 worth of Southern Pacific stock to the Pennsylvania railroad in exchange for $21,000,000 worth of Baltimore and Ohio stock.

The new plan proposed was sup-

ROYAL OAKS STAR IN BIG PARADE

Rose Festival Pageant Brings Forth Fine Teams and Crowds.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—In the final pageant contest, the Oakland Club's decorated auto won second prize. The decoration was in charge of W. D. Nichols. Following an auto ride throughout the city this morning the Royal Oaks took part in a decorated horse and vehicle parade. The Portland Evening Telegram says editorially: "Judging from the appearance and 'esprit d'corps' of those white-clad Oakland boosters, led by their celebrated boys' band the wonder is that San Francisco isn't the suburb."

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12.—A tremendous impression was made by the Oakland Royal Oaks in the "Night in Rosaria" parade last evening. The smart white uniforms of the Oakland delegates were the center of attraction to the immense crowds that thronged the streets.

The night event, which consumed nearly three quarters of an hour in passing was an innovation in Portland's "festival celebration and one of merit, too." It was headed by the Royal Rosarians and with a large delegation of Elks in line. Then followed, in turn, the McNamara Elks, and uniformed delegations from Oakland, Cal., Pasadena, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, Wash., and drill teams of the United Artisans from a number of cities.

The most pretentious so far as uniform was concerned, was the Seattle contingent with the Potlatch Bats, but the artisans with their well executed drilling shared honors equally with the Seattleites.

Today the principal event will be the

SHOUP CHIEF OF EAST BAY LINES

Southern Pacific Official to Manage Local Electric Roads

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Paul Shoup, of the Southern Pacific Company, who for some years has been in complete control of the Los Angeles electric suburban system, has been placed in charge, with absolute authority, of the electric system in Alameda county. Shoup will be the undisputed head of the lines radiating from the Oakland and Alameda modes and will make arrangements, it is understood, for the most immediate beginning of service between Alameda and Oakland.

Shoup could not be interviewed today as he is in Los Angeles, but other officials of the company confirmed the fact that he had assumed control of the electric system across the bay. Shoup will spend half of his time here and the remainder in Los Angeles. He has been making a trip between the two cities weekly for some time past and will continue this arrangement.

IS EXPERIENCED MAN.

"The theory on which the Southern Pacific officials are operating in this regard," explained one of the directors of the company today, "is that the problem of suburban electrical traffic is about the same hereabouts as in Los Angeles. Mr. Shoup has had wide experience and the efficient system in Los Angeles speaks well for the manner in which the section between Palo Alto and Los Gatos and the suburban lines out of San Jose are not included in under the supervision of Shoup. These are Southern Pacific lines but are operated as a separate entity."

The "Blossom" line, which controls the section between Palo Alto and Los Gatos and the suburban lines out of San Jose, is not included in under the supervision of Shoup. These are Southern Pacific lines but are operated as a separate entity.

ADAMS' CHILDREN WILL GET LITTLE FROM PRATHER ESTATE

The discussion over the ownership of the oil paintings of Mrs. Julia P. A. Prather and Edson Adams Sr., which are hanging in the deserted homestead on Alice street, is still going on in unofficial circles. It would now appear that Mr. Prather's blood relations have given up all claim to the paintings and therefore the three minor daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edson F. Adams will become the owners of the large paintings.

A great deal has been said about the will of Julia Prather. It would appear from the will that Thomas Prather could do what he pleased with the estate. He could give it away or throw it away. The "unexpended" portion of the estate goes to the Adams children.

WILL OF MRS. THOMAS PRATHER.

Here is the will of Mrs. Thomas Prather:

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 26, 1904.

I, Julia P. A. Prather, hereby make my last will. I give all the property which I do possess or of to my husband, Thomas Prather, and appoint him my executor to serve without bonds. I give him power to sell any or all of my real estate and personal property without an order from the court. Upon the death of my husband, the said Thomas Prather, one-half of the unexpended portion of my estate bequeathed to my husband is to be given to my niece, Julia Adams, daughter of my brother, Edson F. Adams, the other one-half to be given to the surviving daughters of my brother, Edson F. Adams, in equal shares. I revoke all or any wills heretofore made by me. I declare this will is entirely written and dated and signed by my hand.

(Signed) JULIA P. A. PRATHER.

It is a certainty that the Adams children will get very little from the Prather estate. Thomas Prather gave property valued at $500,000 to his blood relatives before he died.

PROBE ARREST OF AMERICAN YACHT

Entered Closed Port to Make Repairs, Says Captain of Craft

TOKIO, June 12.—The official procurator of Nagahama is investigating the "arrest" yesterday of the American yacht Columbia owned by J. Harvey Lader of the New York Yacht club.

The owner claims to have received verbal permission from the custom house authorities to enter the port of Nagahama for repairs. The Japanese government, however, declares that it issued a permit for the Columbia to visit the Sacred Island of Miyajima and the maritime town of Takamatsu, but not Nagahama.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Although without advice regarding the seizure of the American yacht Columbia by Japanese authorities at Wakayama, officials here believe the vessel will be taken into the harbor to make repairs.

The United States has closed to foreign vessels certain ports regarded as military or naval bases. These include Tortugas, Florida, Great Harbor, Cuba, Guantanamo Naval Station, Cuba, Pinar del Rio, Hawaii, Guam, Subig Bay, Philippine Islands, and Kiska, Alaskan Islands.

JAMES A. BARR

The federal postal revenues are receiving a decided increment from the correspondence bureau of the Oakland Commercial Club, due to that organization's vigorous and far-reaching campaign for the selection of this city as the seat of the 1915 convention of the National Educational Association.

Every school principal and teacher in Alameda county, every prominent educator in the state and many out of it, and any and every one in any way likely to be of use in furthering the club's pet project is being besieged with literature as well as personal requests from the directors to go to the Educational Association's convention now in session at Salt Lake City and plead the claims of Oakland for the educators' great assemblage in the exposition year.

The club directors consider that they have been very fortunate in securing the active and efficacious cooperation of James A. Barr, of Berkeley, chief of the bureau of education and manager of the department of conventions and societies of the Pan-Pacific International Exposition commission. The Educational Association's convention had been "half promised" to San Francisco for the exposition year, and it was Oakland's business to convince the exposition commissioners that the spirit of that city would be even better suited to the occasion.

Meeting in Oakland, the scholars, the superior scenic and climatic advantages and the superior accommodations for the 30,000 delegates was the day for Oakland, as far as the commissioners were concerned, the nearness of this city to the site of the exposition being another point in its favor.

The only objection to the marriage by Mrs. Clarke was due to the fact that she was unable to be present at the wedding and the youth of the bride, who is not yet out of her teens.

Mrs. Maddux is a Southern girl from Atlanta, Ga., and a graduate of the girls' high school in that city. She is a typical Southern girl of the blonde type and possesses a charming manner. Both Mrs. Clarke and her daughter are prominent in social and club life in the bay cities.

Mrs. Maddux is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maddux of San Francisco and is well known in business in Oakland. After their return from their honeymoon the couple will reside in this city, where they will make their future home.

King Asks Premier to Remain in Office

MADRID, June 12.—King Alfonso has requested Count Alvaro de Romanones to remain in office as premier and to form a new cabinet.

The political crisis, resulting in the resignation yesterday of the cabinet, is due to dissensions in the Liberal party, which have become more acute recently and were brought to a head by the recent vote of the administrative decentralization bill, when 37 Liberals voted against it.

Although the government had not made the bill a question of confidence, the vote showed unmistakably that its majority was very precarious and Count de Romanones deemed it the wisest course to resign again.

plemental to the two plans recently submitted. The amount of stock involved in the exchange represents only 14 per cent of the total Southern Pacific stock. The present holdings of the Union Pacific in Southern Pacific common stock represent about $126,000,000.

N. H. Loomis of counsel for the Union Pacific, said that the Union Pacific did not guarantee to carry out either of the two principal plans proposed even though the court approved both of them. If it should be found that to follow either would involve too great a sacrifice to the Union Pacific stockholders the disposition of the stocks would be left to the court.

"How long a time do you think the Union Pacific should be given to dispose of the stock?" inquired Judge Smith.

"I think the court should be liberal with us in the matter of time because of the present condition of the money market," replied Loomis. He thought the railroad should have one year in which to dispose of the stock.

The disposition of the stock, said Attorney General McReynolds, opposing the plans proposed by the Union Pacific, said that the railroad had been unable to effect a deal whereby the Union Pacific should acquire the Central Pacific, in exchange for its Southern Pacific stock. He declared that this failure would compel the government to institute an expensive litigation to compel the Southern Pacific to relinquish its hold of the Central Pacific.

The court adjourned without announcing a decision in the Union Pacific dissolution matter.

CONFIRM STATEMENT.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Pennsylvania railroad officials confirmed today the statement that an arrangement had been entered into for the exchange of the company's holdings of Baltimore & Ohio Railroad stock owned by the Union Pacific.

It was stated that the exchange, if approved by the court, would be made on the basis of the relative market value of Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pacific stock. It was stated that the Pennsylvania had no interest in the management of the Southern Pacific and that the arrangement is purely a business one, designed to prevent the throwing on the market of such an immense block of Southern Pacific stock.

According to the last annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, it held 12,766 shares of preferred stock of the Baltimore & Ohio, with an aggregate value of $7,250,000. Including the Pennsylvania company, which controls lines west of Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania interests own about $42,000,000 of Baltimore & Ohio stock.

The arrangement is that the common stock of the B. & O. Railroad held by the Pennsylvania Railroad would be sold at par and the preferred stock at $30 per share and the Southern Pacific stock to be purchased at par.

"The whole transaction will involve the transfer to the Pennsylvania of 382,924 shares of Southern Pacific Co. stock and will represent the delivery by the Pennsylvania railroad to the U. P. of the entire holdings of the Pennsylvania railroad system in stock of the B. & O. Railroad."

USE PERSONALITIES AT BOARD SESSION

Parents Take Directors to Task Over Barring of "Frat" Members.

Kessler, another parent of a suspended boy, for his verbal attack on the woman member of the board.

"It is all right," said Miss Brown. "Forget that I am a woman."

It was finally decided that when the suspended and expelled members of two fraternities give up their Greek letter charters and cause the other secret organizations to do the same the students now under the directors' ban will be reinstated.

CHARGES "BARGAINING."

Dr. Harry Carlton, E. H. Garthwaite and Charles Hill were the principal protesters against the stand taken by the Pi Delta Kappa and Phi

Gamma and expiring youths belonged, offered to relinquish their charters on condition of the immediate reinstatement of the youths dismissed.

"You are trying to bargain with us on the enforcement of the state law," declared Dr. A. S. Kelly to Sydney Carlton and Thomas Graves, the two boys who made the offer. The parents of Carlton and Hill, as well as Garthwaite, were on their feet at once demanding that the boys be reinstated.

"We will keep our two big 'cat' terms at once," declared Carlton. "What more could you ask?"

MUST DISBAND ALL.

"We want them all knocked out," retorted Dr. Kelly. "When all the fraternities in the high school offer this we will talk about letting the boys come back to school!"

"That is not fair," declared Carlton. "Why did you bring us parents up here for this?"

"We want our boys reinstated. We think the board went at this wrongly. We were not told of this matter until they were expelled. It was all done in a very peculiar manner. Now the time is ripe to knock out two of the fraternities and the parents will help you."

"If our boys are returned to their classes. We know they were wrong and deserve punishment. We think they have been punished enough and know they will give up the 'frats' that ought to be enough."

Miss Brown was urged by the parents to move that the reinstatement be made. She started on the work of framing a motion, while Hill and Carlton crowded up and attempted to prompt her.

OBJECTS TO MOTION.

"I move," said Miss Brown, "that the action of these two fraternities be commended and that the board be further state that as soon as all the fraternities relinquish their charters or announce their intention of doing so these boys be immediately reinstated."

"No," shouted Hill. "That won't do. Our boys won't be able to come back for a long time."

"They will come back as soon as the rules are complied with," answered Miss Brown. "That is our principal object."

"I am surprised," declared Garthwaite. "This action is contemptible. We will not tolerate it. It meets with our deepest contempt."

"You have made yourselves the laughing stock of the town," declared Mrs. Garthwaite.

"It is an insult to us parents," shouted Hill.

ASSAULTS MISS BROWN.

The parents gathered about the table, despite Dr. Kelly's attempts to restore order, and Hill and Miss Brown were soon engaged in a wordy war. Miss Brown angrily heaped abuse on Hill, denouncing the tactics of the board as sharp practice.

He declared that were she a man he could more adequately express his sentiments, that she was unfair, that she displayed no sense and that she sought to run the reputation of his innocent son and the other boys concerned in this affair.

Miss Brown referred to the gathering as "a Roman mob."

"Well, retorted Hill, 'I have more sense than some people I could mention!'"

"That, Mr. Hill," answered Miss Brown, "is entirely a matter of your own opinion."

"Yes," declared Richard Kessler. "Hill is entirely wrong."

Hill was pacified, and retired to the rear of the room, while Carlton and Garthwaite, with Sydney Carlton and Thomas Graves, president of the Phi Lambda Epsilon, together with Erickson and Russell MacDonald, Skinner was last week reinstated on account of extenuating circumstances. The suspended ones include Cerville Mott, Donald Leavitt, Edwin and Wyndom Garthwaite, Clifton Gordon, Richard Kessler, Ray Stewart and Roy Fowler.

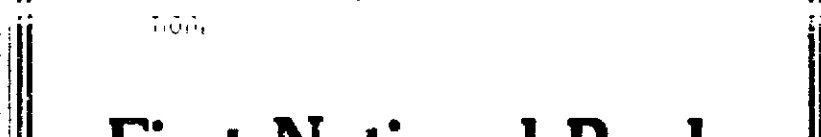

GARTHWAITE GIVES VERSION.

"Aur protests, brought out possibly in a disconnected way during the excitement last night," said Garthwaite today, "simply amount to this. We parents have worked with the boys in an effort to abolish these and other fraternities. We expected the board to keep its promise to meet us half way last night, and expected that the boys who voluntarily relinquished their fraternities and told the truth, as well as worked to get others to do the same, would be reinstated. We feel as parents, naturally enough that that should be done. Of course, our object is to get our boys back, but we certainly feel that we have done all in our power to do it."

"The boys now barred from school were not in a position to go to supposed mem-

CABLES FOR REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—General Wood has cabled to Major General Bell, commanding the Philippines division, for an immediate report on the operations of Brigadier General Pershing in conducting against the Moros in the Jolo archipelago.

The war department knows nothing of the details of the operations as General Pershing had been given a free hand to deal with the problem of disarming the Moros in his own way and the distances from Zamboanga, the Jolo capital, to Manila is so great and the communications so uncertain that reports from the scene are very meager.

The general staff is considerably disturbed by the mention of the Sultan of Jolo as leading the heaviest Moros, for it had been understood that he had thrown his influence with the Americans in the disarmament program.

'Barefoot Burglar's' Alleged Pal Caught

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Charles Dickson, known as "Big Boy" and alleged to be the companion and accomplice of the barefoot burglar who is in jail in Oakland, in connection with a score of burglaries, was captured today by police.

Early this morning by Detectives Regan and Manion. Detective Drev of the Oakland department requested the local police to be on the lookout for "Big Boy" and he was found concealed in a Townsend street lodging house. He was taken to the city prison and placed in detention. He will be turned over to the Oakland police today.

George W. Ward, the negro barefoot burglar captured last week in San Francisco, was charged and arraigned in the police court this morning. The case was continued to be set for preliminary examination. Ward has confessed and has aided the police in recovering valuables stolen in Oakland by him and pawned in San Francisco. Ward has been connected with 26 burglaries in Oakland.

HALF BILLION CAN BE BORROWED BY NATIONAL BANKS

Secretary McAdoo Announces That Emergency Currency Is Ready for Use.

Statement Given Out in Response to Numerous Inquiries.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Secretary McAdoo said today that his statement announcing that $500,000,000 of emergency currency would be forthcoming should banks need it, was made in response to numerous inquiries from bankers who were anxious to know whether additional could be available for crop movements.

Secretary McAdoo was asked today if any applications had been received by the government from national banks or currency institutions for the issuance of currency under the provisions of the Aldrich-Vreeland bill of May 30, 1908. He replied that no such applications had been received. The secretary said that the Aldrich-Vreeland act passed five years ago authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue additional currency to national banks and currency associations upon the security of state and municipal bonds as well as government bonds and also, under certain conditions, to currency associations, on high class short time commercial paper as well as on government, state and municipal bonds.

HALF BILLION READY.

"In accordance with the act the secretary of the treasury has actually in bond $500,000,000 in new national bank notes, which can be issued immediately to any national bank or currency association applying therefor and complying with the provisions of the act.

"The secretary said that he would not hesitate to issue currency to any banks making application and qualifying under the act.

"National currency associations have been organized in various parts of the country, from Massachusetts to California and now are qualified to take the benefits of the act. So that the national banks and these currency associations upon compliance with the act may quickly receive additional currency to the extent of $500,000,000 if they require it, upon application to the treasury department. The Aldrich-Vreeland act expires June 1914."

BANKERS ARE SILENT.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Secretary McAdoo's overnight offer to issue emergency currency completely surprised the financial district. None of the bankers would express an opinion on the subject, but it was clear that the secretary's announcement was interpreted, even before his explanatory statement of today, as an act to reassure the legitimate interests of the country, especially those of a mercantile and industrial character. Local bankers believe that the offer will have the effect of releasing large amounts of time money, in which a severe stringency was threatening. No later than yesterday over-year money was utterly lacking in this market, while the rates for four, five and six months hardened perceptibly.

One effect of the proposed measure was a sharp rally in stocks today and stock exchange houses reached a better investment demand than at any time since the recent depression. No small part of the inquiry came from out-of-town sources where the effect of Secretary McAdoo's announcement appears to have been received with greater encouragement than in local circles.

BACHELOR'S WILL IS CONTESTED

Widow Sister of Deceased Accuses Nurse of Having Influenced Testator.

Contest over the $10,000 estate of the late Thomas Henry Dowling, a bachelor, who died in Oakland on May 4 last, was filed today in the Superior Court by To-morrow, Margaret Day, a widow, sister of the deceased, who alleges undue influence on the part of Elizabeth A. Castle, a nurse, who by the will is given one-half of the property.

When the matter was called before Probate Judge Ogden today the case was continued on stipulation of attorneys for both sides for two weeks, owing to the new aspect of the case.

Dowling resided at 2905 Ninth avenue and according to the complaint on contest of his will, he died without issue or other relatives except his sister, Mrs. Day.

In her complaint Mrs. Day recites that her brother had been addicted to use of opiates and that his nurse had lived in the same house with him for several years, having complete dominion over his actions and bearing a confidential relation in all his business affairs. It is further alleged that Elizabeth Castle induced Dowling to sign the will and is asked that the court reject it.

William D. Keaton of San Francisco was named as administrator of the estate to act without bonds.

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—Governor H. W. Johnson at noon today issued an appointment of H. D. Gregory of Oroville, to succeed the late John C. Gray, as superior judge of Butte county. Gregory is an attorney of Oroville and has lived in Butte county for the last 16 years. He is a Progressive Republican.

CLAIMS APARTMENT HOUSE AS HOMESTEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—If Mrs. Clara E. Pickard is allowed a homestead claim on the apartment house at 1243 Pine street, owned by her late husband, O. L. Pickard, she will receive $17,750 out of a $40,000 estate. Pickard's will leaves the apartment house valued at $35,000 and $4000 in San Mateo county property. Half was to go to the wife and the remaining half to be divided among five brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Pickard claims that the apartment house constitutes her homestead and if she wins she will receive apartment house in its entirety and half of the San Mateo county property.

SITE FOR BUILDING IS 28TH AND WEBSTER STS.

Will Be Handsome Ornament to City of Oakland

Plans were filed this morning by A. Landsburgh, architect for the new First Hebrew Congregation Synagogue, for the new edifice, to be erected at Twenty-eighth and Webster streets at a cost of $100,000 in the near future. The plans were gone over by the building committee and officers of the church this morning and bids will be called for at once for the work. The building will mark one of the greatest steps forward in the history of the congregation. The structure is to be built of brick and steel, and will be one of the most magnificent church edifices in the city.

The new building will cover a space of 100 by 135 feet, and will contain a main auditorium, seating 350 people, six Sunday school rooms, a pastor's study, assembly hall, director's room, and library. A magnificent pipe organ will be built into the great auditorium, and every possible provision is being made for the comfort of the congregation.

The movement was started for a new building shortly after the congregation moved from their old home at Twelfth and Clay streets to their present site at Twelfth and Castro, which was vacated yesterday with much impressive services, the congregation bade farewell to the old structure. Work began this morning on dismantling the old home of the synagogue.

The meeting place for the interim before the new building is completed has not been chosen, but will be announced within a few days.

TO HAVE CEREMONY. An informal ceremony will be held at the ground breaking, to take place as soon as the contractor for the building has been selected. This will be under the auspices of the congregation's building committee, which has worked night and day to bring the building plans to a successful conclusion.

This committee is composed of President A. Jonas of the congregation, ex officio, Rabbi M. Friedlander, Fred Kahn, A. S. Laxson, and George Samuel.

Yesterday at the congregation's services President Jonas and Rabbi Friedlander spoke in the farewell ceremonies, outlining the greater scope of the church work resultant on the completion of the new building and urging the congregation to loyally support the plans of the directors.

"It is amatter not only of religious but civic pride," declared President Jonas. "We appeal for your loyalty and financial support in this great project, which will not only give us a magnificent edifice but be a credit to our great city. The congregation now has its greatest opportunity to evince its loyalty."

DR. FRIEDLANDER SPEAKS. "It is," said Rabbi Friedlander, "I believe the intention of the congregation to build up the sanctuary on the Athens of the Pacific to be the center of religious activities. It is a thing that will speak in years to come of the religious generosity and the civic spirit of our people. Let us, the Jewish community of Oakland, extend the welcome of our congregational limits and widen the borders of spiritual interest. This will broaden our scope. It is also the young people's work. We are on the beginning of a great project. Let us not be found wanting."

The work will begin according to the plan of the congregation, at present without a home, at as soon a date as possible. The building committee will call for bids and rush the preliminary work at once. The actual construction is the immediate goal of the committee. Announcement of the temporary meeting place of the congregation will be made within a few days.

'SUNDOG' PUTS IN APPEARANCE HAS SUPERSTITIOUS GUESSING

There was a "sun dog" in the sky today, and its appearance is causing the superstitious much worry. The creature just mentioned is no newly discovered animal that resides in the solar regions; it is nothing more than a huge circle of enormous diameter, rainbow tinted and ominous looking, that surrounds the sun. Charles Bruckhalter, the observer at the Chabot observatory, was much perplexed today when questioned about the circle.

"It is true," he said, "that the rings around the moon are common enough, but the 'sun dogs' are very few and far between. They usually occur in winter and are not noticeable on account of the cloudy condition of the atmosphere. Frozen moisture gathers at tremendous heights and forms around the warm sun in the shape of a circle. If the sun is hot enough it will melt the icy atmosphere in a short time. However, the phenomena is uncommon in the summer months."

It looks as if the ring around the sun is a symbol of either good or bad, it is hard to say, but for the benefit of the superstitious mention should be made of the fact that tomorrow is Friday, the 13th, 1913. Better consult your horoscope.

AD CLUB FAVORS HIGHER STANDARD

Drastic Rules to be Submitted to General Convention Tomorrow.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 12.—A move for higher standard of advertising was formulated today by representatives from such department of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, which now is in annual convention here. A drastic set of rules to be submitted to the general convention tomorrow, comprises the following regulations:

That all newspapers and periodicals used by advertisers be required:

To give the whole truth about their circulation, quality, location and how secured.

To print advertising of demonstrated reliable concerns only, conformed to exclude manifest exaggeration, slurs or offensive matter of any kind.

To refrain in the "makeup" from putting advertising in a position to be injuriously affected by the neighborhood of incongruous or repellent matter.

To adopt the "flat" rate plan without secret rebate or concession.

BARGAIN ANNOUNCEMENTS. That bargain announcements in newspapers and periodicals be only of legitimate and truthful low cost offers, rigidly excluding fake comparisons and misleading claims of value.

That advertising managers, while being rigidly held responsible for the verity of their business announcements, should be supervised by their employers to command the truthful co-operation of those from whom they obtain advertising information.

The creation of a commission to work out details of a plan to enforce clean methods in all the ramifications of the advertising business will be recommended to the convention at its final session Friday.

A sub-committee consisting of William H. Ingersoll and O. J. Gude of New York, and James Neeley, general manager of the Chicago Tribune, was appointed to draft a definite plan.

That San Francisco will not be unopposed for the 1915 convention was made plain today when a representative of the Commerce Association of Chicago, appeared before the convention with a pledge of a fund of $30,000 for a meeting in Chicago in 1915.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—San Francisco is to be headquarters of the largest of the five districts into which the United States is being divided for the purpose of making a physical valuation of railroads to be used as a foundation for rate regulation by the interstate commerce commission.

Thompson, formerly chief engineer for the California State railroad commission and the first member of the board of valuation engineers to be appointed following the enactment of the Le Follette bill.

Thompson is in San Francisco today to recruit candidates for the civil service examinations by which eventually 5000 engineers are to be employed in prosecuting the most gigantic engineering job ever undertaken by American engineers. The first examinations will be held simultaneously in all the larger cities within the next 60 or 90 days.

MOTOR RACES ARE
ATTRACTING FANSLos Angeles, San Francisco and Emeryville in the Limelight.

(By EDMUND CRINNIN.)

It has been definitely decided that the Panama-Pacific Road Race will start from Los Angeles at one minute past midnight, July 4, and finish in San Francisco on the afternoon of the Fourth.

If the cars make the run in thirteen hours as is expected the winner will roll in to the Fair City about 1:30 in the afternoon. Others will follow at short intervals throughout the afternoon and as an immense score board will be erected at the finish with news of the progress of the race through the different towns it will be a day of road race excitement not only in San Francisco but throughout the entire state.

The intervals between the cars at the start will be decided by the referee. This will not be more than three minutes as that would mean over an hour and a half

The first hundred miles will be night driving of the most dangerous character. It will take the cars through the San Francisco Canyon and the drivers have been spending much of their time learning this section of the road.

The entrants will begin putting the finishing touches on their cars this week and many go over the course in the coming days which they will drive in the race. Practically every car has been over the course a couple of times.

There are a number of estimates as to the time that will be made. Barney Oldfield says fourteen hours. But he says if the cars do not go by way of Stockton the time will be under thirteen hours.

The members of the committees will begin making their final trips over the course this week for the purpose of making the final arrangements for the race. The cities along the route have agreed to police and guard the road and the merchants in the valley are making preparations to take care of an enormous crowd.

RACE DRIVERS HERE.

The auto polo cars and the eastern exponents of the dangerous and fascinating sport accompanied with several racing pilots and the racing cars of Bob Burman, speed king who will participate in the auto races and auto polo to be held at the Emeryville race track Saturday and Sunday, June 15-16, have arrived in this city and are garaged at the Imperial Garage. The cars will be hastily overhauled and tuned up for the two days' meet, at which nine auto racing events and five sessions of auto polo will be given on each day. The auto polo will be played between the auto races, thus assuring a continuous program without any interruptions.

Bob Burman will arrive in a couple of days and will immediately try out his new "Burrhead" "Burrhead" which he will send after some of his world's records which he expects to lower. The "Burrhead" will also be seen in competition in a three-beat race, best two out of three, at three miles. The cars are all open events and a large number of local cars are expected to participate besides the speed annihilators of the eastern and state pilots.

Fred Burnham, millionaire sportsman, owner of the Imperial IV, the motor boat which won the international trophy, may enter his new 120-horsepower Isotta which is being driven by George Monier, a crack racing driver who has been in Burnham's employ. It is also possible that Burnham will drive his own car as he has had considerable experience with it. Burnham has made numerous records on the Florida beach some five years ago when beach racing first became popular.

FLAG DAY IS TO BE OBSERVED
FINE PROGRAMS ARE ARRANGED

Elks of Oakland and San Francisco Plan Elaborate Exercises.

(By EDMUND CRINNIN.)

Idora Park theater will be the scene of a most impressive function at next Saturday's Flag Day exercises, to be conducted under the auspices of Oakland Lodge, No. 171, B. P. O. Elks.

It is one of the established customs of the order to surround the observance of the patriotic anniversary with a certain solemnity far from any suggestion of a mere socialization, yet of so interesting a character as to attract and hold the attention of adult audiences and to impress itself indelibly upon the plastic memories of the young. The exercises usually consist of a number of orations, poems bearing upon historical episodes in which the national colors play a leading part, a few well selected numbers of military and classical music and the singing of national hymns and patriotic airs, in which the audiences are invited to join.

All its predecessors on this side of the bay. The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of the following named prominent Oakland business men: Milo E. Hickok, chairman; F. A. Hooper, D. A. Sinclair, E. O. Meyer and Frank M. Sheridan.

ORDER OF EXERCISES.

The order of exercises is as follows:
The White Oaks; "Star-Spangled Banner," Panama-Pacific Band; introduction of guests; oration by the speaker; prayer, chaplain, solo, "Love You, Country," Mrs. Fred Lauffer; "Record of the Flag," Mrs. Frank B. Ogden; selection, Golden State Quartette; altar service, esquire and officers, "Elks' Tribute to the Flag," Ward Pelton; selection, Panama-Pacific Band; solo, "The Flag That Has Never Known Defeat," Mrs. Clinton Lodge; oration, Hon. Samuel M. Shortridge; selection, Golden Gate Quartette; song, "America," audience, exit march, Panama-Pacific Band.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The Flag Day exercises of the San Francisco Lodge of Elks will take place at Native Sons Hall next Thursday night when an elaborate patriotic program will be rendered.

Nadame Bernice de Pasquall, of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, New York, who is a member of the Boston Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will appear on the program for two groups of patriotic songs, while ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Idaho, Joseph Hutchinson, is down for "Elks' Tribute to Elks," and Theodore A. Bell for the oration. The committee in charge are making great preparations for the occasion. The committee is as follows: Alfred Ronovetter, chairman; Charles A. Moraghan, secretary; Thomas W. Butcher, C. S. Beckman, Fred Demmer, A. R. Fredericks, John F. Seymour, James O. Martin, Angelo J. Rossi, Charles D. Steiger and Clyde Thompson.

DOMESTIC STRIFE
ENDS IN DIVORCEWalter Soderberg Mining Man, and Wife Separated
by Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The domestic difficulties of Walter Soderberg, the Nome mining operator, whose wealth has dwindled away in the last few years, and those of his pretty wife, were settled by Judge Graham granting a decree to the woman late yesterday afternoon.

The struggle between the pair was kept up principally for the sake of the five-year-old boy, Richard, who will remain in the custody of the mother, with the father having frequent opportunity to take him out and visit him. A pathetic feature of the grant was the fact that the mother, who has charges on both sides, was the breaking down of the youngster as he was about to be separated from his father.

"I want my daddy," he cried, and when he had been given into his father's arms, he added, "Don't cry Daddy, I'll be good."

The father is to contribute $25 for the support of the child.

MYSTERIOUS PACKAGE
MAY ADD TO WOES

SAN JOSE, June 12.—The contents of the mysterious package in the Union Trust Company's vaults in San Francisco, which, if opened, might cause trouble like Pandora's box is delaying action in the investigations of a recent fire in the vaults of Frank L. Dreishmeyer, the young attorney and clubman, whose clients are suing him for the recovery of more than $43,000 and whose total losses reach in the vicinity of $50,000.

All day long people who entrusted their financial affairs to a young Dreishmeyer have been besieging the county recorder's office to learn if deeds of trust and mortgages were placed on record.

It is not doubted here that the sealed package in the vaults in San Francisco, which, if opened, would reveal the contents of Dreishmeyer's financial troubles are in a stringent condition. Dreishmeyer is non-committal. He says: "I do not think it would be policy for me to discuss the affair."

HAWAIIAN EDUCATOR
TO TAKE POST IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Among the passengers who arrived here yesterday on the Hawaiian transport was Dr. J. W. Gilmore, who has resigned the presidency of the College of Hawaii to join the faculty of the agricultural college of the University of California as professor of agronomy.

Dr. Gilmore was president of the College of Hawaii for five years. Before that he was a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, and later of Cornell University. His successor at the island college has not been appointed, and until the appointment is made, Dr. Gilmore, dean of the faculty, will direct the affairs of the institution.

Dr. Gilmore says that the people of Honolulu were much interested in California's anti-Japanese legislation. In Hawaii the Japanese are in a big majority, and it was feared that their animosity might cause considerable discomfort for the accidental residents.

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—The old fogey of the latent poison that lurks in the night air is given a sharp rap by the State Board of Health in a bulletin issued today.

And so it says that there is no danger in breathing the good night air, so long as it isn't indoor night air.

Thus, Californians are advised to cuddle up in sleeping porches, protected from obnoxious insects.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS
FOR GOV. SULZERSays Direct Primary Good Thing and Women Should Be Given Vote.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 12.—Governor Sulzer and Theodore Roosevelt spoke from the same platform here tonight, in favor of the governor's primary election plan. Three meetings were held.

To the audience at Convention Hall, Col. Roosevelt said he supported Governor Sulzer in the contest for re-election, because he believed that the fact, in the interest of the foundations of American citizenship, of his desire for changes in the primary bill, advocated by the governor, the colonel said:

"There are two points I have especially in mind. I should like to see a change that would permit us to put up as party officials not only men but women. I don't see that anyone has a right to object to that, for example the thing I am most interested in—workmen's compensation, minimum wage, the product of the labor of women in industry—in every one of those matters among the persons whom I consult in trying to get them through there are as many women as men."

"If we have a constitutional convention I should want to see the constitution explicitly permit us to pass legislation on these subjects and I should like

The Rush Bridge Scheme.

Nobody has yet been able to find out who is behind Allen C. Rush, the promoter, who is trying to induce Congress to give him, his heirs and assigns a concession carrying valuable privileges to build a bridge across San Francisco bay. The bridge scheme is fanciful enough, but the privileges asked for are realities of a merchantable sort. Such privileges should be granted only on the fullest knowledge respecting the identity and financial responsibility of the persons who are to benefit by them.

The Rush scheme has been industriously exploited in the press for several years past, but the public is no wiser now than when it was first broached. Congress is asked to go it blind and grant a concession in ignorance of the use that is to be made of it. Bridging the bay from Oakland to San Francisco is regarded as impracticable by many of the most eminent engineers.

bar the undertaking from a financial point of view—the population is not here to make the project a paying one, at least for many years to come.

But who is to furnish the money to build this gigantic bridge? Into whose hands will the concession fall? And how about the valuable privileges to go with the concession? If the enterprise is a bona fide one, why is definite information withheld? Mr. Rush's name does not figure prominently in the financial and professional world, therefore his glib assurances are too unsubstantial to be depended upon. His scheme is not entitled to consideration until there is a complete show-down. How the bridge is to be built, who is to build it and when it is to be built are all questions that should be answered fully and without reservation before the Rush application is taken up seriously.

In Washington stress is laid on the endorsement given the scheme by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Congress should not act without information because the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has made a recommendation without knowledge or investigation. The endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce confers no legal rights, grants no privileges. An act of Congress is a totally different matter. It should not be taken without due deliberation and a thorough investigation. Past experience has taught the folly of granting important concessions carrying rights of occupancy and easement on public property without Congress being supplied with every detail relating the scheme.

Of the Rush scheme the public knows next to nothing. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce acted precipitately on a plausible ex parte representation which was notable for its lack of essential facts. It was merely the spiel of a promoter asking something for nothing. Congress should go slow in this matter. The harbor channels on both sides of Yerba Buena island must be kept free from obstruction or threat of obstruction. A mere easement right on the island should not be granted unless it is certain to be used for the purpose specified, and within a reasonable time, and no concession should be given that may be used as the basis of financial exploitation of the blue sky pattern. There is a vast difference between launching a bridge scheme as a speculative enterprise and actually building a bridge that will cost more millions than we care to count.

The Rush scheme never looked right from the start, and it has not been promoted in a manner to encourage public confidence. Everything is freely handed out, but information which would enable a business estimate to be made. Fancy drawings and word painting is all we have to go upon. It is not enough, though too much of its kind.

Chester Rowell is billed to deliver a talk in San Francisco on quack newspapers. No man has a more intimate knowledge of the subject he has selected to discuss than Mr. Rowell—he edits the most notorious quack newspaper in the State. Puckett should be an authority on hypocrisy—if he would only tell the truth.

More than twenty architects competed in drawing plans for the new million dollar infirmary building that Alameda county proposes to erect. Only three of them are Oakland men. Yet two of the three—J. J. Donovan and C. W. Dickey—were awarded prizes. The first prize went to a San Francisco man, but the second choice was the plan of an Oakland architect. Which shows that there is plenty of talent at home if people would get over the delusion that the grass is always greener over the river.

Sacramento in Flood Danger.

Prompted by the flood disaster at Dayton, Ohio, the Bee is urging that the levees protecting the city from the flood waters of the Sacramento and American rivers be raised and strengthened. It points out that the levees above and below the city have been raised till they are now higher than those protecting Sacramento. Formerly the levees in front of the city were the highest on the river; the weakness above and below being a protection to the city. But the situation has been reversed by the raising of the levees above and below.

The danger of flood has been increased by diking and reclaiming the low lands which in times were overflowed in periods of high water. The pressure on the levees has been increased by closing the relief channels formerly open and confining the river in the regular channels. The situation has, therefore, become a distinct menace to Sacramento. An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure. Strengthening the levees will insure the city against flood and disaster. Viewed strictly as insurance, it will be worth ten times the cost. If it pays to insure against the chance of fire, it will certainly pay to insure against a flood which would do an immense amount of damage to property and give the city a heartache for years to come.

It is true that the government is widening the river channel at Rio Vista and that a series of bypasses on the west side are to be constructed to perfect control; but it will take years to complete this work. In the meantime Sacramento is exposed to the danger of overflow. Rainfall and snowfall have been light for several years. Heavy snows in the mountains and an old-fashioned downpour in the spring would bring down a great flood that would put every levee on the river to a severe strain. The weak-

The Bee is rendering its constituency a useful service in calling attention to the levee situation and the peril to which Sacramento is exposed.

Drunkenness in Public Life.

The libel suit which has terminated in the vindication of ex-President Roosevelt's sobriety ought to put an end to a scandalous story respecting his habits that has been circulated by word of mouth for several years. It has gone over the entire country and was told so often and with such specious circumstantiality that it obtained a wide credence despite its lack of credible authority. Stories of the same sort were circulated about President Cleveland and many broad allusions to it were made in the press. Probably Colonel Roosevelt brought his libel suit more to prove the groundlessness of the tales privately circulated than he did to punish the publication of a gross slander, which merely put into printed form a story that has been current for years.

As a matter of fact there never was less drinking to excess among public men than there is today. Conviviality is no longer popular, and bibulous propensities are distinctly discreditable to men in public life. As a rule Senators and Congressmen drink sparingly; many of them are total abstainers and a considerable proportion of them believe in prohibition.

Temperance has prevailed at the White House since the election of Grant to the Presidency. The General drank but little and President Hayes was a total abstainer. Wine was never served at the White House table while he was President. Contrary to popular report, President Cleveland was a temperate man; he drank occasionally, but not to excess, and never made any pretense of concealment—he was no hypocrite. President Harrison was no teetotaler, but he was exceedingly temperate in both eating and drinking. So was President McKinley. Roosevelt drinks next to nothing, and Taft and Wilson do not drink at all.

The same degree of temperance prevails among Senators and Congressmen. A more temperate body of men than the American Congress cannot be found anywhere. This country will no longer tolerate drunkenness in its high placed public servants. A generation ago it was not uncommon for Senators and Representatives to appear on the floor in an intoxicated condition. Thank heaven that is one of the sights of the past. The standard of morals is not only higher, but the standard of living is cleaner, and the rule of personal conduct is more exacting than it used to be. The reform visible in our public men is a reflex of popular opinion as to what is permissible.

MAKING 'MARBLES'

Most of the "marbles" so beloved of the small boy are made of clay, the "glass" variety, of course, made of glass; while agate, to some extent, enters into the manufacture of special and finer "marbles." The clay is cast into a "pug-mill," or "chaser," and, as the heavy wheels revolve over the clay, it drops, in pulverized form, into a bin beneath the mill. Thence it is lifted, by an endless elevator, to storage bins. The next step is to force the stiff clay through the perforated base of the pug-mill, from which it emerges in the form of clay strings, the diameter of which is regulated by the round holes in the base of the mill. These rolls or strings of clay are pulled from the pug-mill when they have attained a length of about 18 inches. They are placed on flat boards and conveyed to the clay shops, where the "marbles" are made. First the rolls of clay are deposited evenly in a trough, and a workman cuts them into cubes, according to the order. The cutting is accomplished by means of a saw. Seven rolls of clay will, generally, amount to 200 little cubes, and it is from these cubes that the "marbles" are rolled. When the cubes have been cut, they are placed in an ordinary tin pan and turned over to the workers, generally girls. A handful of cubes is picked up and these are placed, one at a time, in a grooved plaster-of-Paris mold. The size of the grooves also depends upon the size of the "marble" to be made. When there is one clay cube in each groove a plaster oblong block is adjusted in position on top of the cubes and pushed forward and backward until the clay cubes become round and rolled true. This operation is one that consumes but little time. The top block is lifted and the clay "marble," in its "green" state, is placed in a tray. A worker who has acquired skill in her work can, it is said, make from 25,000 to 30,000 a day. "Marbles" are counted by weight, also by the cubic foot. The small clay marbles, measuring 1/16th of an inch in diameter, weighs 5/16th of a pound, and is colored at the rate of 200,000 every eight minutes—Harper's Weekly.

Cities visited have been Pwllynell, Almweh and Llanymnech. The train visited districts Drilling for oil has begun on the island of Sicily. Well informed people have known for a long time that oil was to be found there.

Twenty Years Ago Today

News from Visalia reports that Contag, one of the famous bandits, has been shot by a posse and cannot live. Evans, the other of the duo, escaped into the mountains, but the officers are hot on the trail and expect his capture within a few hours. Charles H. Butler, general manager of the Starr Milling Company's Oakland interests, saved two small boys from drowning recently. They had upset their boat in the Brooklyn basin and were struggling in the water when Butler came along with his launch, Millie, and took them to shore.

The inquest over the bodies of the Ford Theater victims has begun in Washington. The testimony so far places Colonel Ainsworth chief of the record and pension division in a bad light. It is said that this official knew of the danger that a portion of the building had been roped off as unsafe, and that clerks were expected to go up and down stairs on tip-toe so as not to shake the building. The clerks in the building were otherwise unwarned of their danger and went down to their deaths through the mistake of Ainsworth.

Four more cars have been placed on the Oakland-Alameda electric line, making eight in all. Traffic is heavy and the project is a complete success.

John P. Irish and family, Mr. and Mrs. de Golla, B. F. Priest, Miss Lucy Smith and Miss White have returned from Yosemite.

Martin Deel is back in town from South America.

The Berkeley Board of Trade will meet soon to discuss the question of a cheap ferry between this city and San Francisco.

Professor Le Conte of the university has gone to Chicago to study many of the features of the great fair.

Miss Louise Tisdale daughter of Dr. T. Tisdale of Alameda, was returned after an absence of two years in Europe.

The Whitney Ferry Company, an independent combine is a complete success. It has cornered a great deal of the transbay freight and is carrying an average of 900 people a day to and from San Francisco.

Mrs. Carrie E. Snider and her little daughter will be at Niles during the summer months.

If A. Powell and family have gone to the Geysers.

CHINESE DRESS

The Chinese, as we learn from a consular report, are not adopting the European fashion of dress as rapidly as it was expected they would do when they had secured a republican form of government. Soon after the revolution there was a marked tendency among the middle and better classes of Chinese to adopt the apparel of the Westerners, but the bulk of the people—laborers, artisans, and small shopkeepers—could not afford it. However, there was quite a large demand for all sorts of foreign wearing apparel. Lately, however, reaction has set in and many of those who adopted foreign dress last year, perhaps 90 per cent have gone back to native clothing. Silk, which declined greatly in price about a year ago has lately risen again 20 per cent, which in itself shows that the demand for native clothing is increasing—Consular Report.

Bradford, England, is doing some city replanning. The municipality will wipe out a mass of buildings in its most ancient and most valuable part, where the streets are from eight to twelve yards wide, putting in new and broad streets and buildings from five to eight stories high.

Italian engineers in Barbary have found great quantities of good water by digging modern wells through the sands of the desert to the hard stone that lies beneath.

GERMANS AND AGRICULTURE

Germany's agriculture is chiefly in the hands of peasant farmers. Four-fifths of the entire soil is cultivated by peasants farming up to 160 hectares (247 acres). Small holdings are on the increase, owing to the breaking up of large estates. The favorable crop returns of Germany must be attributed to the general spread of scientific methods through the establishment of agricultural colleges and to the increased use of chemical manures. The empire alone uses as much potash salts as the rest of the world together. An estimate of the value of agricultural products gives for wheat and barley, cattle, pigs, etc., and milk a total of nearly $2,350,000,000 annually. The sugarbeet fields of Germany produced in the crop year 1912 an estimated 2,600,000 tons of sugar, in contrast of 1,795,000 tons in Austria-Hungary, 1,920,000 tons by Russia, and 870,000 tons by France. Characteristics of Germany is its developed agriculture, especially in mountainous districts. For decades no woods have been destroyed in Germany, but many tracts of unproductive land have been afforested. About 60 per cent of the forests belong to the state or to municipalities. That Germany is a country of small holdings is shown by the number of co-operative societies of farmers, which have a membership of about 2,500,000 agriculturists.

EMERSON'S FAILING MEMORY

I had as a fellow guest a man who had long been intimate with Emerson and whom the poet was very glad to see talking after tea in the library. Emerson said: "I want to tell you about a friend in Germany, his name I cannot remember." and he moved to and fro uneasily, in his effort to recall it. "This friend with whom we have taken tea tonight whose name also I cannot remember here again came a distressed look at the failure of his faculty. 'I cannot remember his name either, but he can tell you of this German friend whose name I have also forgotten.' It was a sorrow to see the breaking-

SUBURBAN BANKS STRICTLY DEFINED

National Bank Act Applies to Suburbs Not Within City Boundaries.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Suburbs of big cities in future will be unable to organize small national banks with capital of $25,000 or $50,000. Attorney General McReynolds has rendered an opinion to the treasury department holding that it is not lawful under the national bank act to consider suburbs as separate places from the cities within whose corporate boundaries they lie and that if a city has a population of more than 50,000 people the minimum capital for its national banks whether in the city proper or in the suburbs must be $250,000.

This will result in a complete reversal of the previous policy of the government, and it is stated, may cause suburban towns of big cities to organize banks.

STORK BRING'S FIRST TWIN TO WOMEN IN PUBLIC PARK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 12.—In the open air of a small park in the boarding house district here a girl baby was born at dawn today to "Mrs. Lily Brown," wife of a prosperous farmer of western Kansas. At noon physicians at a hospital to which the woman was taken said mother and child were in good condition and that a twin to the park baby was expected momentarily. A servant girl passing the square on her way to work heard the baby's cries. The mother gave the name of "Brown," admitting it was not her real one, and explaining that she did not wish needlessly to worry her husband and three children at home. She would not give her address.

With plenty of money the woman arrived at the union station last night en route to a hospital. Feeling ill she said she feared to board a street car and was so dazed she wandered out into the street. When she reached the park exhausted after a ten blocks' walk she sat down and fell asleep.

WOMEN FIRES AT TWO MEN HOLDS UP CHERRY THIEVES

MRS. A. G. MADERA.

Compels Orchard Robbers to Pay for Fruit and Damage Done.

SAN LEANDRO, June 12.—Two orchard plunderers making off with their spoils, were stopped in their flight by a revolver shot fired by Mrs. A. G. Madera of Haas avenue, who afterward held up the men at the point of a revolver while she forced them to pay for the damage they caused to her cherry trees.

Mrs. Madera's plucky act was performed yesterday afternoon in her orchard, which runs alongside San Leandro road. A party of men from San Francisco held a barbecue in the creek and the sound of merry-making reached Mrs. Madera's home. She saw a branch, apparently in the heart of her cherry orchard, aroused her suspicions. Mrs. Madera was alone at the time.

Of the broken branch she saw the cause of the noise. She saw two men and two of the barbecue party feasting on her cherries, while they had also gathered a supply for their friends in the creek. The plunderers made no attempt to run off just then, and as Mrs. Madera was then unprepared to arrest them she allowed them to go after they had promised, they would not come back.

HEARS NOISE AGAIN.
Ten minutes later when Mrs. Madera had returned to her house, she again heard a noise as if some one was in the orchard. Determined to bring the robbers back, she armed herself with a revolver and went in the direction from whence the noise came. Proceeding quietly among the trees she was enabled to approach close to the orchard robbers, who were the same two men she had warned off before. "Hold up your hands or I fire," came in incisive tones from the plucky woman. The trespassers looked around startled and commenced to run. A bullet fired by Mrs. Madera whistled over the heads of the men, causing them to stop in their tracks.

"Hold up your hands," again came the command. This time Mrs. Madera received prompt obedience. Both men wheeled round and lifted their hands above their heads.

"Now, I'm going to make you both pay for the cherries you've taken and the damage you've caused to my trees. You'll each have to pay $1 right now." The men hesitated with their hands in the air, gazing with some alarm at the threatening revolver pointed in their direction.

PAY THEIR FINES.
"Oh, you can take down your hands to the ground," said the brave woman. "Stand squarely, the men paid over their fines. 'Now go,' said Mrs. Madera. 'And don't let me catch you here again, or—' But the two slunk out of the orchard before they could hear the rest of the sentence.

The determined little woman, having secured herself against loss through damaged trees and given a lesson to the orchard plunderers, which they are not likely to forget in a hurry, made her way back to the house. The noise of the shot had brought out the police, and the neighbors, who thought something unusual had happened. "I was merely scaring off two men who were stealing my cherries," she explained, "and fired in the air to stop them from running away." Mrs. Madera's action, however, has been widely commended by San Leandro people and especially cherry orchardists, who are hopeful that it will have an effect in reducing the number of orchard raids in this district.

INDIANS BEAT UP DISCIPLINARIAN

Plot to Liberate Six Dusky Maids Results in General Row.

GREENVILLE, June 12.—While attempting to correct Seymour Smith, a gay young Indian who is alleged to have conspired in a jail delivery of six dusky maids held in detention at the local Indian reservation, G. M. Hull, disciplinarian for four counties in the Indian reservation, was beaten up and his assistant, James Groves, held at arms length while Mrs. Hull attempted to trip the Indian with a cane.

The case has been kept dark here for several days. The facts came out at the trial of Smith.

The Indian youth was said to have been working his delivery from a bathroom. He was found there by Hull, who ordered him to leave at once. Not waiting for the boy to don his clothes, he threatened him with a cane and the fight started.

The Indian says he was bitten in the neck by Groves and beaten by Hull. None of the Indian girls were put on the stand to prove a plot to liberate them from detention.

Attacks Court
NAPA, June 12.—Marie Taylor, former well known society woman of this city, charged with forging a check for $5000, made two determined attacks in the Superior Court yesterday on the indictments against her. Her attorney argued a motion to set aside the indictment, claiming that transcript of testimony before the grand jury in 1908 did not show that Marie Taylor forged the name of Valentine Hathaway, a wealthy planter, to a check at a Napa bank. The court denied the motion. The defense then contended that the prosecution was barred according to statute because prosecution was not commenced within sixty days after filing of indictment. Action on this proposition will be taken Monday afternoon.

SKIN AND ITS CARE

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

BEAUTY is only skin deep. This consoling phrase, so often quoted, should be qualified. Beauty is far deeper than the skin these days, and while much of it lies on the surface, more is radiated by good health and a sympathetic spirit. Nowadays to be placed in the class of the woman beautiful it is necessary that the inward condition of the body be healthful to express its outward beauty. Beauty of texture and color of skin, which usually indicates a sound physical state, always redeems a lack of symmetry in the features. The observer's eye is first attracted by good coloring, then follows the observation of the features.

More than half of the letters I receive are complaints of general health can be discovered. In some cases the disorder for long periods of time is limited to a few pores or a small area of the face and is undoubtedly of local origin. Many women through ignorance of lack of energy allow the mechanical plugging of sebaceous glands with dust and dirt, failing to remove the same with soap and water or cream, thus causing accumulations at the mouth of the pores. Then, again, some women use too strong soaps or cheap cosmetics. Contact with dyed veils and frequent nuzzling of the face tend to spreader its surface micro-organisms which are undoubtedly active factors in some if not all stages and varieties of disease.

One of the most common errors with the woman who seeks beauty lies in the frequency with which she tries one new medicament after the other without studying more carefully the details of application of the familiar remedies at hand. It must not be forgotten, however, that each individual skin, like its possessor, has its idiosyncrasies, and the remedy which in one case will give prompt relief will in others prove of no benefit whatever. A clear, lovely complexion can only be acquired where fundamental principles of correct living and the general care of the complexion, applying the necessary creams and lotions, are harmoniously combined. Remember, the complexion is a correct barometer of the condition of the health.

MISS E. S. There is nothing better for developing the chest than breathing. It should be practiced for five minutes each morning, sitting or standing, and each night, when retiring. Practice it when you take a walk or any time you can. Fold your head up and inhale a deep breath, keeping the mouth closed; hold it for a few seconds and then exhale it through the nostrils, still keeping the mouth closed. Never breathe through the mouth. If you are persistent in these exercises, in a short time you will notice a difference not only of your chest but of your general health. and diet are the two chief lines along which you must work if you wish to get rid of superfluous flesh. By diet I do not mean to starve oneself, for this is injurious to the health, but one must give up the rich sweet foods, greasy meats, candies, and pastries in order to lose in weight. Any exercise in the open air is good. Walking is excellent. Don heavy clothes and take a long walk. Walk hard. You probably will perspire, but this is effective in reducing flesh. When you get home take a warm bath. I shall send you a dietary for reducing flesh, the rolling exercises for reducing the hips, and instructions for reducing the bust. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

MAKES NEW STATE
SHOOTING RECORDCorporal A. T. Bolting Co. H.,
N. G., Scores 48 Out of 50 at 300 Yards.

HAYWARD, June 12.—A new State shooting record, breaking all previous attempts, has just been achieved by Corporal A. T. Bolting of Company H, National Guard. As a result of his splendid exhibition Bolting will undoubtedly be chosen to represent the company at the national shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio.

In a practice shoot at Hayward he scored 48 points out of a possible 50 at 300 yards, a record which it is claimed has never previously been made by anyone in the National Guard. Corporal Bolting is one of the youngest members of the National Guard, and his comrades are proud of his fine marksmanship.

Others of Company H who are making exceptional good scores in the shoots are Lieutenant Holmes, Private Charles Pimental and Private Boine, all of whom may represent the Hayward company at the national shoot.

HAYWARD CANNING
INDUSTRY ACTIVEHundreds at Work But More
Help Is Wanted in District.

HAYWARD, June 12.—The daily stream of workers to and from Hayward canneries indicates a busy time in the fruit canning industry. Thousands of dollars are being distributed in wages by the canneries every month, and with the prospect of a steady run on apricots, peaches, and tomatoes, the outlook for the labor market here is bright. For the people are now at work, and more help is yet wanted, showing that a big fruit season is anticipated. The present cool weather, it is thought, will result in a bumper crop of fruit and vegetables of good quality. Fruit canners are coming in from surrounding districts, and are housed in neat cherry colored cottages.

Miss Caldera is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Caldera, and is very prominent socially. The couple, after spending their honeymoon on a trip through the central part of California, will make their home in San Lorenzo.

SAN LEANDRO TO

Advocated From Many Platforms.

SAN LEANDRO, June 12.—San Leandro is looking forward to an exciting close to the non-licensing campaign next Monday evening, the night before election day. Mass meetings of the "wets" and the "drys" will be held on each side of the town plaza. Not content with their open-air demonstration, however, it is understood that the temperance workers have secured the theater for another meeting at the same time. With these meetings at the same time, the electors expect a stirring time.

'F. M. F.' MYSTIFIES
HAYWARD SOCIETYSecret Social Club Arranging
Successful Functions,
Nevertheless.

HAYWARD, June 12.—Hayward people are endeavoring to find out what the letters F. M. F. stand for. These three capitals are all the clue to the name of a secret social society, which has been formed here. As a social organization the F. M. F. Club will arrange dances, parties and other functions, but the rules relating to the conduct of the club are as mysterious as those of Masquerade.

QUERCULI CLUB GIVES FIRST ENTERTAINMENT

The Querculi Club of Golden Gate held its first entertainment at Kinkner Hall last Thursday evening.

The Querculi is a boys' club organization for literary, musical and athletic purposes. It has a large membership and all are wideawake boys.

The entertainment was a grand success and was managed and acted wholly by the club members. The receipts will be used for the purpose of purchasing a printing press which will be used for the printing of the club paper, "The Querculi." Several editions of the paper have already been issued.

PULLMAN BERTHS TO BE MADE WIDER

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Pullman Company has just become possessed of the patent right of new device for the purpose of making berth wider. Sleeping car berths are not as wide as could be desired because of the limitations placed on the width of cars and the necessity of providing sufficient aisle space.

In compartment cars, however, where there is a separate passageway through the car outside, the compartments there is no objection to using the aisle for extending the berths and some of the compartment sleeping cars are equipped with a device for this purpose.

The seat ends are hinged so that they can be swung down and supported by an angle brace and form a horizontal extension of the seat. When two seats are pulled out, as is ordinarily done on making up the lower berth, a filler is placed between the two seats after they have been lowered, thus forming a full size bed.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR
CONVENTION TO EXCEL

That the 1913 national convention of the Christian Endeavorers to be held in Los Angeles next month, will be the greatest in the history of the organization is the belief of the prominent church people connected with it and who have seen countless such meetings.

Many inquiries are being addressed daily to W. N. Jenkins, traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, and the demands for accommodations have become so insistent that the railroad company is arranging for one of the fastest trains that has ever made the Los Angeles run. Pullman sleeping cars, diners and an observation car will be included in the equipment, and a barber shop may be installed if there seems to be any demand for it. This train will bring the delegates from different localities together and will give all a thorough chance to become well acquainted.

DR. AKED SPEAKS
ON THEME 'GENIUS'

Thinks Great Moral Decisions
Reached by Emotions,
Not Mind.

Nearly a thousand people were present last night when Rev. Charles F. Aked of San Francisco occupied the pulpit of the First Congregational Church. It was the regular Wednesday evening meeting, yet the large edifice at the corner of Twelfth and Clay streets was crowded with many eager listeners, who did not belong to the congregation.

Dr. Aked spoke on "Genius," and took for an example the disciple, Paul. In his second letter to the Corinthians he wrote the following: "When I am weak, then am I strong," and the San Francisco pastor went on to explain the true meaning of this quotation.

The disciple, according to the pastor, was a man who suffered great bodily pain, yet being a man of genius was able to write some of the greatest portions of the New Testament. Weak in body, yet strong in mind.

"Weak bodies," said Dr. Aked, "very often exist together with the very strongest and accomplish some of the greatest works in the world. Schiller, Carlyle, Pope and Beethoven are all burning examples of this. When the intellect is goaded on by great physical pain then are wonderful results accomplished."

Dr. Aked spoke on the everyday man and woman, and how they could do something momentous if they would only not stop for cold reason when the impulses cried for the accomplishment of a great deed.

"Lust for money, drink or pleasure," he said, "are not the great ones in the way of the church; the one big thing that prevents the thorough conquest of Christianity is the lack of responsiveness in the usual man or woman."

"It is with the emotions and not with the mind that great moral decisions are reached. I pray that you follow your impulses rather than cold calculation. In regard to these moral questions, it is when the impulses are strong and the heart beats high that you should decide not wait until cold reason sends its chilling influence over you. There are times when it is a crime to keep cool, and a nerveless pulse the cruellest thing that anyone can admit as having. Follow your impulses when a great moral question is at stake, and you will find that you have done right."

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, June 12.—Three hundred tons of freight have just been received at the navy yard from the New York naval station, consigned to the general storekeeper. The shipment consists of general stores and was shipped by water via Galveston and the Santa Fe.

According to word received here the torpedo boat Fox will be turned over to the Naval Militia of the State of Washington and will be stationed at Grays Harbor. Lieutenant W. J. Moses, U. S. N., formerly attached to the gunboat Vicksburg, arrived this morning at the naval hospital for treatment.

According to a report made at Mare Island, the average number of marines stationed at the barracks for the past year number will be gradually increased, and if the proposition of having a brigade headquarters here is favorably considered this number will be increased fivefold.

Mare Island officials have been asked to submit a figure for building the new boilers for the naval collier Danshan, now at this yard. A new stack is also included in this request, which may mean work worth about $10,000.

The electric collier Jupiter will be given another dock trial at Mare Island late today, and no trouble is anticipated. The couple of weeks ago have been gone over and placed in good shape.

It is announced that the expenditure of $55,000 on improvements by the public works department at Mare Island will be the first money used under the new appropriation available July 1. This will include $25,000 salt water flushing and fire protection system and $30,000 for repairs to the seawall.

An estimate on the amount of work in sight for tradesmen shows 190 days in the frigate, 29 days on the Stead, the remodeling of the Prometheus, $30,000 on repaired shells, $50,000 on the Vigilant, the Monocacy and Pios and later on the collier Kanawha.

Because of a rush job on the army transport Burnside and the shortage of labor at Bremerton a call has been sent down to Mare Island for three shipbuilders, three coopermen and eight riveters. The men are only wanted temporarily and will be sent North as soon as authority for transportation is received here.

RULE ON ADVANCE OF OCEAN CARRIER CHARGES

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Interstate Commerce Commission held today that a rail carrier may not advance charges to an ocean carrier on import traffic except under a proper provision therefor in its tariffs.

"When such advance charges are made the freight bill of the rail line must show in separate items the charges as advanced and the charges of the inland carrier or carriers," the order said. "It also must show the tariff rate or rates of the inland carrier or carriers. The name of the ocean carrier to which the charges are advanced also must be shown."

CLERK ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

Missing Coin Found Under the Mattress of Erring Youth.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Bart Bates, a clerk, aged 20, who lives at 2065 Sutter street, was awakened from a sound sleep at 3:30 o'clock this morning, handcuffed and taken to the city prison where he was booked for burglary of the saloon of Charles Cleaver, at the corner of Sutter and Steiner streets, shortly after 1:30 a. m. At that hour Frank Sharp, the bartender, closed the place. Returning at 4 o'clock he opened the cash register and found that $29.80 had been taken. An investigation disclosed the fact that someone had hidden in the basement of the place and evidently been locked in. Sharp's suspicions were centered upon Bates and when the officers broke into the latter's room they found the $29.80 under his mattress.

JUDGE GARY IS CAUTIOUS WITNESS

Says "Substantial Competition" Existed Between Carnegie and Federal Steel.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"Substantial competition" existed between the Carnegie and Federal steel companies at the time they were acquired by the United States Steel Corporation. Judge Elbert H. Gary so testified on cross examination today in the government's dissolution suit against the corporation.

"They were substantially in competition," I don't want to minimize that," Judge Gary said. "But when you consider the territories of the two, there was not so much competition as would appear."

Judge Gary added that during one period the Carnegie company sold rails in the Chicago district at $13 a ton.

"I willingly admit," he said, "that this had a great effect on the Illinois Steel company (a subsidiary of the Illinois Steel company) that sold their rails below cost and they were fast getting into bankruptcy."

Judge Gary said he did not think the Carnegie company made any profit by selling rails in the Chicago district. "Would you be surprised to learn," asked Jacob M. Dickinson, attorney for the government, that the records show that this was the chief business of the Carnegie company, and showed the most profit?"

"I would like to say that in the old days methods of bookkeeping were such that they frequently showed a profit where there was no profit. In justice to Andrew Carnegie I wish to say that since 1897 there has been a very material change in this respect, largely due to Chas. M. Schwab."

ORPHEUM

Great acts with rippling catchy music, hilarious comedy, startling thrills are prime characteristics of the current show at the Oakland Orpheum, but the one feature that is commented upon more than anything else, is the large number of pretty girls in the big show.

A beauty bill has not been seen at the Orpheum for some months, and not in a year has there been a bunch of prettier girls than those on view this week. One expects to find pretty girls in a big show, but the girls which Gus Edwards is offering as the stellar feature of the bill, but when every one of a group of sixteen girls ranging from a wee tot to the dainty leading lady is a real beauty and every one different, there is evidence that Mr. Edwards is a grand judge of feminine good looks as well as a great song writer.

Amusement is that quainter, the Mandy Maids. It would be dangerous to mention any one of the five in particular. The current bill opens with an enigma in the juggling members of the Romwells pair, who is either a real Amazon among handsome women or a clever female impersonator among men.

And the closing act brings forth still another beauty in dainty Ollie Woods, who rag-time, light-wise walking and dancing is a delight and wins and holds the audience to the end. Miss Woods has many admirers who think she is the queen of the whole show.

The other acts of the bill including Kramer and Morton, Chief Cauliflower and Willard and Cain, are men's acts and make up for their lack of feminine attractiveness by the cleverness of their work, be it music, comedy or otherwise.

OAKLAND PHOTO

The feature of the Friday, Saturday program at the Oakland Photo is a two-reel Vitaphone comedy, entitled, "A Regiment of Two." Two gay husbands enlist in the Thirtieth Regiment to be sure of "a night off" once a week. Two or three people are let into the secret, the daughter of one and her fiancé, Jack Brent, the latter being a genuine member of the Thirtieth. All goes well until the regiment is ordered to the front. Although they march away with the others, the husbands go on a fishing tour. Later, they learn through a newspaper report that the regiment has been wiped out in battle. The plot thickens. Home they go, changing their fishing clothes for regimentals, and before their respective wives, pose as the sole survivors. The report proves to be false, and there are further complications when Brent and the other husbands return from the front. Quick wit on the part of the husbands saves the day.

"Birds and Animals of Brazil" is an interesting Pathe play. On the same reel are shown views of Rangoon, Madagascar. A great story of a girl's meeting on a train of a novelist and a dainty little co-ed is told in "A Modern Psyche," a Vitaphone comedy drama. Earle Williams takes the part of novelist and Miss Dorothy Kelly makes one of the daintiest little college girls that could be imagined. A bigraph drama, "A Timely Interception," completes the program.

IDORA PARK

Despite the fact that the summer weather has not been all that summer weather in California should be, the crowds have been drawn to the big open air pleasure grounds at Idora park since the opening this season, and the commencement of a season of 12 weeks of musical comedy as a free attraction in the canopied amphitheater has greatly increased the attendance.

The throngs of visitors have been well rewarded by the offerings of the new Idora opera company thus far, and the promise is for higher quality performances and better operas than ever before.

A broad joll, the musical farcically presented this week is a riot of laughter, music and colorful costumes and stage settings. Everything is in keeping with the spirit of the show, which is that of whimsical topsy-turvydom, with a dash of real comedy and good music to make the entire affair acceptable to those who are not fond of unalloyed farce and jocular absurdity.

The Idora opera company, under the direction of Herr Adelman, have become a popular feature every afternoon at the park when the company does not appear in matinees. A number of standard popular songs, compositions, classical and operatic selections, and some ragtime comprise the program.

OIL SMOKE FILLS SHAFT OF ELEVATOR

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Considerable excitement was caused at the busy junction of Sutter and Kearny streets, at 9 o'clock this morning when a volume of black smoke began pouring from the cellar of the Adams Building, 150 Sutter, and filtered up through the sidewalk. An alarm was turned in and it was discovered that the oil in the basement furnace had become ignited and had spread to the walls. The smoke was vented through the elevator shaft and filled all the floors of the structure. The blaze was extinguished with minor damage.

MACDONOUGH.

After scoring the hit of three seasons in San Francisco, where it was called the greatest musical comedy since "The Folies of 1911," "Hanky Panky," Lew Fields' greatest production, will open a three days' stay at the Macdonough Theater Monday evening. This show opened in Chicago two years ago, and the fact that it has stayed out long after other musical shows were taken off the road, and is still the big, brim-rolling musical comedy, stamps it as something unusual.

Its visit to this city will be notable because of the fact that Christine Nielsen, who made her stage debut here four years ago, is singing the prima donna role, the first time she has ever appeared in her native city since she gained fame and fortune on the stage. Miss Nielsen started her career at Idora Park and when she left here four years ago was a naive, charming girl with a glorious voice.

YE LIBERTY.

To take effect next Monday evening, a new change of policy at Ye Liberty playhouse was announced this morning by H. W. Bishop. The new plan is to give, as now, two nights play each night, but to change the hours and the prices.

On next Monday the first performance, that of "All the Comforts of Home" will start promptly at 8 o'clock, and will be followed, without intermission, by "Seven Sisters." The old schedule of prices for Ye Liberty of fifty cents for the general admission, and half price to the balcony, will be operative, with the understanding that one ticket entitles the holder to witness both performances.

The matinees will be given on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday with the general admission price for admissions. Both plays will be given as at the night performance. After long figuring the management has learned that the two plays can be given, starting at eight o'clock, and ending at the ordinary hour at which theaters dismiss.

COLUMBIA.

"A Pair of Kids" an amusing burlesque on the famous old fairy tale "Babes in the Woods," is being presented by Dillon & King with their Gingers Girls at the Columbia Theater this week. The comedy element of the piece is particularly strong and offers excellent opportunity for leading comedians for fun-making. The piece is lavishly mounted and contains several sets of beautiful costumes, elaborate scenery and novel electrical effects. The plot resembles "Babes in the Woods," a familiar fairy tale to old and young alike.

Dillon & King assume the leading roles of the bandits hired by the baron to execute the babes. Charlie Kelly and Maude Beatty are humorously cast as juveniles this week and are responsible for much of the comedy contained in the piece. The role of the baron is splendidly portrayed by Ernest Van Pelt. Eva Heazlit contributes an excellent piece of work as the good fairy. The minor roles are capably played by Mattie Townsend and Marjory Shaw.

PANTAGES

If the time limit of the show at the Pantages this week is exceeded, blame must be laid on the shoulders of the audience and the audience will back her up. "The Man She Met" Miss Ring shows a great deal of versatility. She displays artistic ability in dramatic and comedy situations that the piece affords and she is backed up by the splendidly portrayed role of the baron is splendidly portrayed by Ernest Van Pelt. Eva Heazlit contributes an excellent piece of work as the good fairy. The minor roles are capably played by Mattie Townsend and Marjory Shaw.

PROBATION GIRLS NEED GOOD HOMES

Several Seeking Service for Small Wage, but Kind Treatment.

The probation office of the juvenile court has a goodly number of girls under its wing for whom Miss Theresa W. Rich, the assistant probation officer who has been for some time looking for homes. Some of the girls are Protestants and some are Catholics, and their ages range from 15 years upward. The girls in Miss Rich's charge are some more and some less highly skilled in domestic service, but ask only from $10 to $15 a month wages, for the reason that Miss Rich expects them to be received and treated as a part of the family in which they work.

"We do not place our girls out as mere servants," says Miss Rich, "for these girls have lacked real homes in the past and that is why we are now interested in them. It would not help our girls, who are in need of friendship, to have even less of it than have had. What they need is not so much to make money as to have the opportunity of normal family life."

Miss Rich may be seen or addressed at the probation office, 419 Nineteenth street, near Broadway, Oakland, during the day, or may be reached through the probation office telephone, Lakeside 338. Homes which are now in need of one of Miss Rich's girls or who may be in need of the state's help in the future, are requested to communicate with her at once.

Tells Women Grads That Marriage Is Better Than Career

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 12.—Marriage is better than a career, President Edward J. James of the University of Illinois, yesterday told about 200 women graduates who had just completed four years of training for a profession. "The average man and the average woman can do their best work for themselves and for society in a partnership which results in a social unit effective for social progress," said President James. "The woman who deliberately chooses this career when the opportunity offers itself, or when she makes it for herself, as every woman can, is choosing a highway to social service which is far ahead of all teaching or legal or medical service she can possibly render society."

"It looks sometimes as if our modern society is giving the honors of social recognition to the bachelor maid, instead of to the wife and mother. Just in proportion as this is done will society surely suffer by recruiting its ranks in the long run from the uneducated and more animal elements."

ALAMEDA EAGLES READY TO BUILD

ALAMEDA, June 12.—Alameda Aerie of Eagles last night let the contract for the construction of the new Eagles clubhouse, building at Alameda avenue and Oak street. The plans call for a two-story building. The upper floor will be utilized for an Eagle hall and auxiliary apartments. The over floor will be made into a large ballroom and supper apartment, for use by the lodge and by such other fraternal and social organizations as desire to use it.

It is believed that the ballroom will earn a considerable revenue for the building association of the aerie. The cost of the handsome structure will be about $20,000. The site is a valuable one and was purchased about two years ago. Since that time the Eagles have been perfecting their building plans and are now ready to proceed with active building.
